

Don't be so naïve to believe that . . .
Innocence will be lost;
A priceless cost.
You will never be the same;
Experience to blame.
You will change:
Your heart will grow colder,
Your body much older,
Your mind....
Just think about it,
It will make you sick.
But you must not change.
You will remain
Just the same,
But wiser.
